Members of Sports Construction Industry Honored at ASBA Technical Meeting

Forest Hill, MD – The American Sports Builders Association (ASBA), the national organization for builders and suppliers of materials for athletic facilities, has noted that three association members were honored at its Technical Meeting.

Two honorees were recognized with the Tennis Industry Magazine Champions of Tennis Awards. Those were as follows:

Tennis Court Contractor of the Year: Trans Texas Tennis, Houston, TX

The Tennis Court Contractor of the Year is recognized not just for excellence in design and construction but in contributions to the industry. Trans Texas Tennis, which has been in the industry nearly 30 years, specializes in post-tension concrete tennis court construction. Steve Wright, who accepted the award on behalf of his company, is a Certified Tennis Court Builder and a longstanding member of the ASBA.

Youth Tennis Facility Developer of the Year: Signature Tennis, Inc., Woodstock, GA

The Youth Tennis Facility Developer of the Year is recognized as an advocate not just for building courts for children's play, or modifying them with 10U lines, but for advocating the sport as a whole and making it a welcoming experience for all new players. Signature Tennis, which has been in business more than a decade, champions the cause of lining both soft and hard courts for children's play. The company, which primarily services the club market, is noted for its high standards as well as its outstanding work.

These awards, presented each year, are part of Tennis Industry's Champions of Tennis awards, presented each year by the magazine and honoring industry members in a number of categories, including tennis facilities, coaches, teaching professionals and more. Information on all Champions awards is available from Tennis Industry Magazine.

Awards were presented at ASBA's recent Technical Meeting in Ponte Vedra, FL.
